

United Property Resource Corporation (UPRC) Statement for Community Response to April 14 City Of Hamilton Council Meeting

“We are appreciative of City Council’s decision today which will allow additional time for community engagement and consultation to determine a viable redevelopment approach for 85 Holton Avenue South, the site of St Giles.

UPRC’s commitment is to responsibly explore options for heritage conservation and we understand and appreciate the concerns of the community. Our intent is to come forward with options for the community to discuss, provide input and prioritize.

We are working to create affordable rental housing inclusive of all Canadians, and at the same time, consider the wishes of New Vision and its community of faith who have shown tremendous dedication to this project.

We remain committed to a transparent process as we continue to explore the options to build mixed income and affordable rental housing on the site.

We look forward to ongoing collaboration with Councillor Nann, Planning Committee and the City of Hamilton.

— Tim Blair, CEO, UPRC